SHORT INSTRUCTION GUIDE

1. Put your Belou in the charging station to charge. It is now in sleep mode. The small LED light flashes red while it's charging. If your Belou is fully charged after approx. 180 minutes, then there will be a green LED light. It's now ready to use.
2. Simply remove your Belou from the charging station to activate standby mode. You can now turn on the four vibration modes in four intensities with the remote control and enjoy them for approx. 45 minutes straight.
3. Your Belou will enter sleep mode if it's out of the charging station for more than 120 minutes without vibration. This prevents the battery from discharging completely.
4. Just put your Belou back into the charging station to reactivate it. It will then be ready for action the next time you take it out again.
